Tip sheet

- ▶ Ask better questions
 - Keep questions short—too long and they confuse the listener.
 - Don't ask two questions at once. Focus on one point.
 - Don't ask questions just to fill space. Genuinely want to know the answer so you can correlate to a goal and investment strategy.
- ▶ Let them talk—interruptions are rude and reveal YOU aren't really listening.
- ▶ Transition questions naturally. Use something in the answer to frame the next question.
- ▶ BONUS: When working with couples, ask both of them questions and listen equally.
- ▶ Extra points: Use silence to wait for responses and give the other person time to think.
